Allinson Nash Ltd, established in 1992, based in Middlesbrough the home of Dorman Long, can offer design and detailing for a full range of Structural Steel applications.

We have over 35 years experience, with our staff starting with traditional manual apprenticeships through to present day 2d & 3d applications. We have detailed all aspects of Structural Steelwork and also offer Frame and connection design services.

We can complement or provided additional resources to your existing drawing office, without the overheads or act as your drawing office. Please contact Keith Allinson or David Nash.
